Madam,
Sir,

I have the pleasure to inform you that a Seminar on the Hague System of International Registration of Industrial Designs is being organized by the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), at its headquarters in Geneva, on November 15, 2006.

The objective of the Seminar is to promote a better understanding of the Hague System among the user community, in particular since the entry into force of the 1999 Geneva Act of the Hague Agreement which became operational on April 1, 2004. The provisional program for the Seminar, which will be conducted in English and French, is enclosed.

It would be appreciated if you could assist us in publicizing the Seminar among interested circles in your country by inserting, if possible, the attached notice in the Bulletin of your Office.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Ernesto Rubio'.

General Information

SEMINAR ON THE HAGUE SYSTEM OF INTERNATIONAL REGISTRATION OF INDUSTRIAL DESIGNS

organized by the
World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO)

Geneva, November 15, 2006

What the Seminar Is About

The increasing globalization of trade is making it more and more necessary to acquire an international application for the protection of industrial designs in a timely and cost-effective manner. The Hague system of international registration of industrial designs was created to meet this need. At present, the Hague system is governed by the 1934 Act, the 1960 Act and the 1999 Act of the Hague Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Industrial Designs. The most recent Act of the Hague Agreement, the Geneva Act, adopted in July 1999, became operational on April 1, 2004.

The Hague system is simple, inexpensive and efficient. It enables its users to obtain protection for their industrial designs in several countries by means of a single application made with the International Bureau of WIPO. Currently 43 States are members of the Hague Union. Thus a good knowledge of the system is important for those working in the field of industrial designs, whether in industry or in the private sector.

The seminar will be conducted by staff members of WIPO and an invited speaker. It aims at increasing awareness and practical knowledge of the system among actual and potential users, whether in industry or in private practice. It will cover all aspects of the Hague system including legal and practical matters (main features and advantages of the system, different procedures, etc.) as well as the latest trends in the field of international industrial design registration.

Who Should Attend

Independent and in-house industrial property agents (paralegals as well as attorneys) who file applications for international industrial design registrations and who administer such registrations.
